Revaluation for M.Tech. Course in JNU

4358. SHRI RAJU PARMAR : Will the Minister of HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT be pleased to state:

(a) the number of applications received for revaluation in course No. 602 in Programming Methodology in monsoon semester 1999-2000 and the course No. 605 in Principles of Operating System in winter semester 2000 in M. Tech. in the Jawaharlal Nehru University;

(b) the number of cases in which the revaluation Process has been completed and the result declared and those still pending, with reasons;

(c) Whether applicants have been given provisional admission to Ph.D., pending their result for revaluation, as per rules; if not, the reasons therefor; and

(d) the time-limit stipulated for completion of revaluation process in M.Tech.

THE MINISTER OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT (DR. MURLI MANOHAR JOSHI) : (a) to (d) As per the information received from the Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU) two applications for Course No. 602 and eight applications for Course No. 605 were received by the University for revaluation. The revaluation in four cases has already been completed. The scripts of two students in one Course i.e. Course No. 602 were found missing and the scripts of the same students for Course No. 605 were also found to be tampered with. While these students were allowed provisional registration, pending revaluation of their scripts, during the last Semester, they, under the circumstances were offered to exercise one of the following options :—

(i) That grades may be given on the basis of the average obtained in the same semester; or

(ii) The students may be asked to take the final examination again.

The two students, however, with the full knowledge of the problem, have declined the offer and are insisting on revaluation of their scripts. Therefore, they have not been allowed registration during the current Semester.

The University, has already constituted an Enquiry Committee to investigate the whole matter.
